TWO RARE PAINTINGS

Of Especial Interest to Connoisseurs of Art.

During all of this week we will have on exhibition two small, but very valuable, paintings.

By Andrea del Sarto. These pictures, which are now 400 years old, are fair types of the work of an artist who, early in the sixteenth century, achieved the enviable title "Fauit-This free exhibition affords an opporunity to see his work in the original, a rivilege which would usually necessiate a journey to Italy.

DR. W. T. NEWTON DEAD

DEMISE OCCURRED AFTER HEARTY LAUGH OVER CARTOON.

Conversation with Di Noble at the Time of His Death -The Details.

Dr. W. T. Newton died suddenly yester-'day afternoon at his residence, 2122 College avenue. He had been ill for some time and Dr. T. B. Noble had been the attending physician. Dr. Newton had apparently so nearly recovered that yesterday, when Dr. Noble called at his house, he found his paa jovial mood and seemingly in better health than usual. He and Dr. Noble were looking at a newspaper cartoon and Dr. Newton laughed heartlly over it. Suddenly he threw back his head and died instantly. Bright's disease was his ailment. Several years ago the deceased represented Bartholomew county in the state Legislature and removed to this city about five years ago. He located on Col-lege avenue and had built up a paying practice. His son, Eustis Newton, was one of the star pitchers of the Indianapolis Baseball Club a year or so ago and the past season played with Cincinnati. He is now a student in the Central College of iclans and Surgeons. Another son, Casper, is an attendant at the Central Insane Hospital. A widow also survives. nounced later.

JUDGMENT FOR TAYLOR.

Action of Judge Morris, of Shelbyville, in a Damage Case.

William V. Rooker received word from Shelbyville yesterday that Judge Morris, of the Shelby Circuit Court, had overruled the motion of the street-car company of this city for a new trial in the suit of Charles E. Taylor for damages, and had entered judgment against the company on the verdict of the jury for $5,085. The case was taken to Shelbyville on change of venue. The defendants immediately filed an appeal to the Supreme Court and the bond was fixed at $7,500.

Taylor is a baggageman who was employed at the Union Station for more than twenty-five years. On Nov. 11, 1899, while riding on North Illinois street on his bicycle he was struck by a street car. He fell under the fender and was rolled and dragged about 275 feet. He was unconsclous for several days and remained in bed thirty-eight days. Then he returned to work, but last March was again confined to

A NARROW ESCAPE.

M. T. Ryan Fell Out of the Bates House Elevator.

M. T. Ryan, a traveling salesman from New York, parrowly escaped serious injury in the elevator of the Bates House vesterday afternoon. Mr. Ryan was a passenger from the third to the first or office floor and started to emerge from the elevator an instant before it stopped. When he discovered that he was about to fall he made an exclamation which disconcerted the elevator boy so that the latter reversed the lever, sending the machine up. This threw Mr. Ryan violently to the ground and twisted his left foot pretty sharply. There was a great deal of excitement in the hotel for a few minutes until it was found that Mr. Ryan was not seriously injured. After a rest of ten or fifteen minutes he was able to walk with thusiastic over the Republican prospects comparative ease.

This information, in tabulated form, he will lay before the executive committee at its session this morning and it will be used as a guide to the members in arranging the time and that they are earning more per official programme from day to day. "In the matter of pollution of public water supplies," he said, "we have arranged what is, perhaps, a new departure in our programme. One certain day-probably Wednesday-will be devoted to that aubject. The executive committee will fix the day, but I think it is safe to announce that it will be Wednesday. A number of topics under the general head of 'Pollution of Public Water Supplies,' having general reference to the question of sewerage, will be discussed in papers and informally by delegates. It is expected that prominent sanitary engineers will be here to take part in this discussion.

"Among these will be Messrs. Rudolph Hering and Allen Hazen, of New York, Mr. Alvord, of Chicago; Mr. J. P. Force, of Columbus, O.; and Mr. Barbour, of Boston. I have the subjects of some of the papers which will be read on this topic. They include: a paper by Mr. Weston, of Providence, R. NATIONAL LEPER HOME.

An interesting topic, of which little is generally known, which will come before the present meeting of the Health Association is the "National Leper Home." "There are lepers scattered throughout the United States," said Dr. Probst. "mostly in the Northwest territory, but some in Louisiana, some in Ohio and so on, and this association has taken up the question of having the government establish a National Leper Home-no one State could, of course, be asked to do itwhere suitable cases could be taken and properly cared for." Many papers have been offered to be read during the sessions this week. Among these are: "Investigation of Stream Pollution, made by the United States Geologi cal Survey," offered by F. H. Newell hydrographer of the survey; "Influence of Temperature on Vaccine Virus," by Dr. F. W. Elgin, of Philadelphia; "Women's Sanitary Work in Indianapolis," by Miss Hester McClung, of this city; "Public Health Laboratory," by Dr. J. H. Linsley, of Vermont; "New Quarantine Methods and Changes which are Called for in Ma rine Sanitation," by Dr. A. H. Doty, post quarantine officer at New York; "A Re sume of the Recent Foreign Work of the Marine Hospital Service," by Dr. R. M. Woodward, of the United States Marine Hospital Service. The association has adopted the practice of referring subjects of importance to special committees, who investigate such subjects between the times of holding the annual conventions and submit their reports to each convention. Reports of such committees are ready to be submitted to the present gathering as follows: On "Pollution of Public Water Supplies," George W. Fuller, of New York, chairman. "Disposal of Refuse Materials," Rudolph Hering, of New York, chairman. "Animal Diseases and Animal Food," Dr. D. E. Salmon, chief of the Government Animal Bureau, Washington, D. C. LABORATORY SECTION. The section of bacteriology and chemistry, known as "The Laboratory Section," is one of the most important branches of the work of the American Public Health Association. This section will hold daily sessions in the amphitheater of the pathological laboratory of the Central Insane Hospital. 'The work will be of a purely technical character, and much good is expected to result from the interchange of thoughts on bacteriological and chemical subjects pertaining to sanitation. Experiments will be conducted in connection with the scientific papers and discussions at these sessions. Dr. Edenharter will serve noon luncheon to the members, and also dinner in the evening, provided there is an evening session. If to-day's work is concluded this afternoon, the members will be entertained at the Columbia Club this

The general association will open its meetings to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock in the amphitheater of the German House. Secretary Probst said last night that he desired to extend a general and most cor-dial invitation to the public to be present at these meetings. "We are always glad to have the general public at our sessions,' he said, "and I think if it were better un derstood that many of the topics discussed are of wide interest more outsiders would be at the meetings. Take, for example, the question of pollution of public water supplies. It seems incredible that any city n the United States has not had to wrestle with that problem. I am informed that the citizens of Indianapolis have had it brought prominently before them. ### TO-DAY'S PROGRAMME.

The Meeting of the Bacteriology and Chemistry Section.

The programme for to-day's meeting of the section of bacteriology and chemistry (laboratory section) of the American Public Health Association, which will be held in the pathological laboratory of the Central Hospital for the Insane, was completed late last night. The number of subjects which are named on the programme to be discussed and experimentally demonstrated to-day is so great that it is not expected to come anywhere near completing the entire list at the morning and afternoon sessions to-day. With this idea in view the programme is provided with a foot note which reads: 'Any paper not disposed of at these sessions will be read at a subsequent adjourned meeting of the section." This is taken to mean that the programme made up last night is practically the programme of the entire week for the laboratory sec-tion. The members of this branch of the general association feel very kindly towards Dr. George F. Edenharter, super-intendent of the hospital, for his courtesy and liberality in extending to them the privileges of the completely equipped pathological laboratory of the institution. Dr. Edenharter will in addition serve noon luncheon to the delegates at the hospital each day and also dinner if evening sessions are deemed necessary and advisable. The programme as it will be officially promulgated this morning is as follows: Introductory address by Dr. Theobald Smith, Boston, Mass.

Report of committee on standard methods of water analyses by the chairman, George W. Fuller, New York. "Variations of the Colon Bacillus," Dr. J. E. Monjaras, San Luis Potosi, Mexico. "Variations in the Properties of Colon Bacilli Isolated from Man," Dr. W. W.

Ford, Montreal, Canada. "Some Observations on the Methods Determining the Presence of B Coli Communis in Water," E. E. Irons, Chicago. Report of the committee on B. coli com nunis by the chairman, V. A. Moore, M. D., Ithaca, N. Y. The foregoing topics are scheduled for the morning session. The afternoon session will begin at 2 o'clock and the subjects provided are as follows "Thermal Death Point of Tubercle Bacilli in Relation to Commercial Pasteurization." Dr. H. L. Russell, Madi

NONUNION

BRICKLAYERS' COMPLAINT AGAINST JACOB WOESSNER.

Democratic Candidate for Sheriff Had Building Erected by Nonunion Labor.

Jacob Woessner, Democratic candidate for county sheriff, is likely to be pretty seriously criticised by the friends of organized labor, and particularly by the union bricklayers of the city. About a year ago, it seems, Mr. Woessner desired to enlarge his business on Virginia avenue, and built a smokehouse and power house of brick. According to the story being related now he employed nonunion brick masons to do his work.

At the last meeting of Bricklayers' Union a public meeting in the auditorium of the the matter was reported to the union, and German House, at which time addresses it was suggested that Mr. Woessner's acof welcome by distinguished citizens of tion be investigated. It is related that Indianapolis will be delivered, followed by responses on the part of prominent delegates to the convention. Dr. Peter H. employed by Woessner representatives of the union called on him and asked him to hire union men. He failed to do this, it is claimed, and explained his action by stating that the men he had employed on the work owed him, and he concluded this was the only way in which he could get what

A member of the union says this excuse of Mr. Woessner's could hardly be ac-When the matter was reported to the union last week it aroused considerable indignation among the members. It is said that fully two-thirds of the union bricklayers of the city are Democrats, but it is doubtful if they support Mr. Woess-

BIBLE RALLY DAY.

Seven Bible Classes Started at Y.

Yesterday was Bible rally day at the Y. M. C. A., and exercises were held in the gymnasium at 3:45 o'clock in the afternoon. Seven Bible classes were started, and at the close of the meeting the aggregate membership of the classes was fifty-three. This Bible study course runs through the fall and winter. The speaker vesterday was Evangelist Henry Ostrom. who was assisted by the singing evangelist, John P. Hillis. Mr. Ostrom talked of the necessity, pleasure and profit of Bible study, and illustrated some of his points by relating some of the experiences he has had as an evangelist. He said it required time to understand many of the parts of the Bible, and he would suggest that the book be accepted in its entirety. It should make no difference who wrote the different books of the Bible. It is enough when Christ said, in speaking of these books: "These are they which testify of Me." After the meeting, a number of the peoole who are taking an interest in this Y. M. C. A. Bible work, were invited to take tea in the association's rooms, and to take part in a conference relating to

COLUMBIA CLUB'S PLAN.

Electrical Work on New Building Not to Be Done by Contract.

Dr. F. W. Hays, chairman of the building committee of the Columbia Club, announced yesterday that the electrical work being done on the building will not be let to a contractor, but the committee will employ union men individually to finish what is to be done. One man has already been put to work since Sanborn's men were ordered off, and others will be added as they are needed. Dr. Hays says that under his personal supervision he is sure none but union men will be employed, and he prefers to finish the work in this man-
